

Getting to Know: Structure of the Earth

When you were younger, did you ever imagine you could dig a hole all the way through Earth? You may have tried before giving up after your shovel hit a bunch of rocks. You can't dig your way through Earth. Do you know why? In this concept you'll learn more about the different layers inside Earth.

The next layer is the core. The core is the innermost layer of the Earth. It's divided into two different layers. The first is the outer core. Like the mantle, this layer is liquid. It's made of hot, liquid rock. Most of the outer
